OBJECTIONS OF JAPANESE CAUSE STIR AT GENEVA

Take Exception To Article VI Of Protocol

HEATED DEBATE

Entire Agreement Is Threatened, Says Paris Press

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 28.—The First Committee, after prolonged and animated discussion, adopted the Chairman's report on the juridical portion of the protocol. An unexpected outcome was the Japanese exception to Article VI, not Article V, relating to the action of the Council in dealing with an aggressor State.

Mr. Adatchi, in a serious tone, read a declaration from the Japanese Delegation, the substance of which was as follows: "The ideal of the League is to settle pacifically all conflicts between nations. The draft protocol, however, does not make good the gaps in the Covenant in that connection, inasmuch as Article XV of the covenant continues to permit a state to escape international investigation under the pretext that a matter is within its exclusive competence even if the matter infringes the honor or prejudices the vital interests, of another state. According to Article VII of the protocol the League, while abstaining from lending its pacific action to a state that has been wronged, threatens to consider that state the aggressor should it adopt measures in defence of its legitimate interests: thus the draft Protocol would lead to the protection of a state which rejected the supremacy of the Court of International Justice and condemn a state which simply asked for the impartial application of justice. The Japanese delegation, which had already experienced great difficulties in accepting Article XV of the covenant, greatly regrets that it is unable to adhere, to the illogical aggravation and stipulation contained in Article VI of the Protocol."

Senor Fernandez (Brazil) contended that the Japanese amendment was not in favor of the attainment of the object the committee had in view and therefore appealed for its withdrawal.

The Chairman, M. Politis (Greece), favored the amendment, pointing out that there had been exaggeration on both sides and that the present wording of Article VI was too rigid.

M. Rolin (Belgium) declared that the amendment was not destructive. Each state had a right to settle its own disputes.

There were several heated in-

Two Day Battle Along 30 Mile Front Line; Victory In Balance

Both Sides Throw All Reserves Into Fight While Chekiang Blows Up Another Bridge To Strengthen Sungkiang Defence Line

BY TALBOT PATRICK

The most desperate fighting of the present war between Kiangsu and the former tuchun of Chekiang has been going on for more than two days along the whole front between Liuho, close to the bank of the Yangtszekiang, to Huangtu village, on the bank of Soochow Creek.

The matches which exploded the magazine of munitions were two columns of Chekiang men which attempted to advance Saturday from Kiating and from Malu village in the direction of Taitsang. At a terrible price in lives, an advance of three miles or so was made, straightening out what had been a hollow in the Chekiang line before Malu village and making a salient. Much of this was later lost.

At the same time, troops which advanced westward along the railway line were successful in getting a small party into the concrete emplacement of a six inch naval gun of the Kiangsu army in front of Anting and in blowing up the gun. The advances were most costly, however, one group of three battalions of 500 men each losing more than 800 killed and wounded, with a large percentage in the fatal list.

WHOLE LINE ENGAGED

Sunday, Kiangsu began attacks on either side of the two Chekiang columns and spread the counter-attack toward either flank, until the whole line became feverishly active. Yesterday the attacks were characterised by Dr. T. S. K. Loh, chief secretary to General Ho Feng-lin, as "desperate." Both sides threw into the lines every man available.

Kiangsu troops from the quiet sector before Chingpu were reported called up to the vicinity of Huangtu, while 750 men, mostly recruits, were sent to the Chekiang lines. Both sides brought into use all artillery possible and rapidly expended the reserves of ammunition which had been sent to the front for more than a week before the outbreak of this critical struggle.

Yesterday morning, the fighting became less active for a time, but the afternoon developed fresh attempts to advance by the Kiangsu army. For nearly seven hours the struggle continued tense and then at about 11 o'clock last night another comparative lull developed. This was only comparative, however, and the renewal of intense fighting was expected before dawn.

A further menace to the Chekiang arms developed yesterday in a reported concentration of hostile troops down the Shanghai-Hangchow railway line near Kashing. The Chekiang front line in this direction was said last night by Dr. Loh to be at the large bridge No. 34. This is a double bridge about ten miles the other side of Sungkiang. The span on the Hangchow side is reported to have been dynamited yesterday by order of the Sungkiang military commander.

The dynamiting is believed part of a scheme of making a strong

3000 Killed And Wounded In All-Night Battle

Peking, Sept. 24.—Some Fengtien aeroplanes flew over Chinwangtao early this morning and, for the fifth time, dropped a few bombs. No damage was done.

Troops movements on various lines in North China continue.

(Reuter's Service)

Mukden, Sept. 28.—A counter-attack by Jehol troops on Chaoyang, on September 24, is claimed to have been repulsed by the Second Fengtien Army. The enemy fled to Chingshan leaving several hundred killed and wounded. The defeated troops, resumed the offensive on September 25, according to the communique, and were again repulsed by the Second Army after all-night fighting, and retreated to Laoshuan near Chienping. Between three and four hundred were killed and 1,000 wounded, while over 100 prisoners, 13 mountain guns, several hundred rifles and quantities of ammunition and military supplies were captured. The Fengtien troops expect to take Chienping shortly.

Peking, Sept. 25.—In connection with Marshal Chang Tso-lin's communique yesterday saying that a number of Chihli troops had gone over to his armies, Reuter's correspondent learns that most of the towns in Northeastern Chihli have small garrisons of Yichun troops who cannot be expected to offer any serious resistance to Marshal Chang and it is probably these Yichun posts which are said to be going over to the Fengtien side.

Peking, Sept. 25.—The Military Council has issued an order appointing Prince Tehlingpu Commandant of Precautionary Forces of the four tribes of Eastern Mongolia between Chahar and Jehol. Prince Tehlingpu is entitled to a supply of arms and ammunition for the men under his command.

Peking, Sept. 28.—In order to cope with the Fengtien forces, the government has newly organized the Fourth Army, and by yesterday's presidential mandate, appointed General Tsao Jui, Commander of the 26th Chihli Division, as commander-in-chief and Generals Yin Pen-hao and Tsao Shih-chieh as vice-commanders of the Fourth Army.

Force Majeure Claim Must Show How War Has Caused Non-fulfillment Of Contract

If one merchant makes a contract with another merchant to deliver a quantity of goods or perform some other service on a certain date and then a war comes along and prevents him from carrying out that contract, the first merchant may escape damages for non-fulfillment of contract by claiming "force majeure."

The above is a phrase which has been frequently discussed in Shanghai business circles since the beginning of the war in this area and in recent days several of the foreign consular officials as well as foreign law firms have been asked for definitions of the term as well as information as to how it fits particular cases of merchants who find themselves unable to carry out contracts on account of the war.

The fighting in this area bringing the cutting of railroads, stoppage of canal traffic and even the limitation upon river and coastal traffic have brought all kinds of complications in Shanghai business circles. Merchants under contract to ship specified amounts of merchandise either inland or to foreign ports have found themselves in all kinds of difficulties.

One consular authority yesterday stated that contracts containing "force majeure" clauses are now strictly legal on account of the declaration of the Shanghai Municipal Council and the French Municipal Council of a state of emergency here calling for a mobilisation of volunteers and the landing of foreign marines. It is reported that this action has been ratified by each of the foreign Powers having marines ashore so that there will be no question of merchants having legal protection in complications arising from inability to carry out contractual obligations due to the war situation.

A well-known foreign attorney yesterday gave to THE CHINA PRESS the following explanation of the term "force majeure:"

"The term "Force Majeure" is taken from what lawyers term the "Civil Law," which is the law derived from Roman law. The Roman law is the basis of the legal systems of any of the con-

FIERCE DRIVES MADE BY OPPOSING ARMIES ALONG ENTIRE BATTLE FRONT

Chekiang Assaults Center As Kiangsu Attacks Both Wings; Severest Clash Yet Staged In Malu Sector; Casualties Run Into Thousand On Both Sides; More Aerial Raids Made By Lu's Squadron

Developments in the Kiangsu-Chekiang war situation on Sunday and yesterday:

The general offensive launched by General Lu Yung-hsiang on Saturday in the Kiating-Malu sectors continues. The Kiangsu forces here have been pushed back 20 li, according to General Hsia Shao-lin, in command of the 7th regiment of the fourth division which is conducting the operation in this region.

All fronts were active yesterday despite the rain on Sunday.

Serious street fighting occurred in Liuho throughout last evening. The Chekiang forces used hand grenades with much effect.

Kiating was on fire from 2 to 8 p.m. yesterday, according to refugees arriving here last night.

The casualities on both sides must have run over a thousand during the last forty-eight hours, although no definite figures could be obtained at the fronts. The dead were left to lie were they fell so continuous was the firing that no opportunity was given to clear the field of the stricken.

The Chekiang Forces are still heavily bombarding Fangtai.

Chekiang planes bombed the Anting Station and set it on fire.

Soochow Sees Grim Side Of War With Arrival Of Barge-Loads Of Wounded

BY MILES A. GOLDRICK

Soochow, September 28.—A long eerie whistle drifts through the dawn and the lights of the [illegible] flash on. As a launch with [illegible] of boats [illegible] around [illegible] Soochow's [illegible] wall [illegible] crowd gathers on the canal bank. Doctors, nurses, coolies with stretchers and two foreigners who seem to be in authority commence a stir of activity.

They are all silent and whether it's the stress of the moment or the depressing effect of a cold gray morning is hard to decide.

In a few minutes the puffing launch bumps alongside and the first impression that you get is that unforgettable reminder of the battle field, the stench of the bodies of those who were killed. The boats in the half light seem filled with squirming gray-coated objects while here and there a few who lie dormant. The still ones are the dead.

Grunting, sweating coolies start their task of removing the patients and placing them in long rows [illegible] double [illegible] to an [illegible] ungainly dump an unrecognisable mass to the ground. It is easy to understand why the stretcher-bearers plug their nostrils with cotton.

Meanwhile the doctors and nurses are working furiously, examining each man and painting his destination with black ink on the side of his head. These go to the Presbyterian Hospital for amputations, those with shell wounds to the Soochow Hospital for X-rays and operations and the remainder stay at the Wilkinson Hospital for surgical treatment.

Nearly every man has some sort of a bundle with him which he is exceedingly afraid of losing. One man comes back almost from death's door to ask for his. But notwithstanding their threats and entreaties the contents of each bundle are emptied on the floor. Such a miscellaneous assortment was never seen. There are furs, women's clothing, jewelry, murderous-looking knives and revolvers and piles of currency. This is their pay and also the extent of the principles for which they are fighting. You can hear them murmuring of their experiences in looting houses. An army officer from headquarters putting the articles which are more of less valuable in a sack, takes them away to be returned to the owners if possible or at any rate to be put to some good use.

Now the painful process of moving the patients recommences and they are put back in the boats for the final journey to the base hospitals. Quite a windfall has come to the Soochow rickshaw coolies these days, for the least seriously wounded are transferred by them. For the first few days the coolies retained their superstitious fear of the injured, but now they are on deck every morning in the old, familiar manner, shouting and fighting for the small sum that the Red Cross allows them.

At this stage of the game the going is perhaps harder than at any other time and is due, no doubt, to the sharp let-down from the previous strenuous efforts. You sit in the stern of the boat, as it is being sculled through the city, and you can't help staring at the poor devils below. On every face there is an untold agony written and their eyes have the look of beaten dogs. There they lie, half covered with matting, for their clothes are stripped off at the front, some raving in delirium and others stoical as Indians. You are glad when they have been taken away.

Scarcely enough can be said of the splendid work that the foreigners, in conjunction with the Chinese Red Cross, are doing in Soochow. Every man and woman is doing his or her part working night and day without a cent of remuneration and often to the disadvantage of personal affairs.

FLAMES SWEEP KATING; LIUHO BATTLE SEVERE

Fire Breaks Out After Town Is Shelled By Kiangsu

BY D. J. LEWIS

Lootien, Sept. 29, 8.30 p.m.—Kating is in flames, the fire being quite plainly seen at Lootien. The Chekiang forces state that the fire was caused by Kiangsu shell fire at 2 p.m. today and at 8.30 it was still blazing.

The Chekiang forces stationed at Lootien have been seriously depleted owing to incessant requests from both the Liuho and Kating fronts for immediate reinforcements. It is stated that 750 troops from Lootien have been rushed to Liuho while a force of approximately 500 have been marched overland to Kating 18 li away.

The Kiangsu left wing on the Liuho sector has been heavily reinforced by 2,000 fresh troops and attacked the Chekiang lines at daybreak today. Fierce hand to hand fighting took place in Liuho, hand grenades and the bayonets being used. Chekiang claims that the Kiangsu forces were again repulsed and that the Chekiang line remains unchanged. During this attack the Kiangsu artillery played a prominent part—it is claimed that they fired several shots so short that they inflicted terrible damage on their own front line troops. It is admitted however that Liuho itself was again heavily shelled. Four cases of ammunition was captured from the Kiangsu forces. The ammunition used by the opposing forces is quite different and not interchangeable.

Chekiang soldiery from reports received from fleeing residents from Tsi Pang Chiao, six li behind the Chekiang lines, are now being quartered in the town having come from Kating. Several cases of forceable annexation of property have been reported.

Today the Red Cross got on the job again at Lootien, several urgent cases from the Liuho front being treated and sent to Shanghai by truck. Three coffins formed part of the Shanghai bound cargo. As an indication of the heavy shell fire at Liuho two women who had been wounded were being sent to Shanghai.

Today's reports would not indicate that the Chekiang advance has materialised in new territory to any great extent, the Chekiang line at Liuho remains practically unchanged and with Kating in flames from Kiangsu shell fire not much of an advance can be claimed in this area.

Five hundred additional troops were sent to Kating today from Lunghwa and arrangements are being made to send additional troops to Lootien.

From the serious condition of several wounded men seen on the road apparently the Red Cross has its hands so full that very little work in temporary relief at the front is now being done.

To relieve the Chekiang onslaught in Kiating and Taichang, Kiangsu forces made a desperate attack on Nanziang yesterday. The Chekiang garrison repeated their encircling movement in the evening and captured a number of prisoners.

Meanwhile, the Fengtai village has been bottled up by Chekiang troops and heavily bombarded. The main creek which flows into the village has been captured, according to the Lunghua headquarters.

Comparatively, Liuho saw little fighting. In the course of the day only one attempt was made by a Kiangsu brigade to capture the town. This was repulsed at noon.

Chekiang airplanes visited the battle line at Anting, Lutang and Kiating and threw several bombs at each place. Anting's railway station was set afire by the bombing, according to the reports of the airmen.

Spies caught by Chekiang authorities confessed that a large number of their confreres have been sent to Liuho to set fire to the houses in order to enable the invading army to bombard it more accurately. Another fire broke out yesterday in this town, but was quickly extinguished.

According to a report compiled by the Chinese Red Cross Society 1,848 Chekiang troops have been wounded and 217 killed since the outbreak of the war on September 3 up to Sunday night. Of the wounded, 1,251 have recovered and been released from hospital, while 709 of the stricken are still confined in the 12 hospitals established by the society in Shanghai and vicinity.

General Chang Tsai-yang, former Civil Governor of Chekiang, yesterday denied the report that he has returned to Hangchow. On Saturday he was invited by his former subordinates to lead the first division in Hangchow, but General Chang has determined to assist General Lu Yung-hsiang in the latter's campaign against Kiangsu.

Tension in Sungkiang has been increased following the arrival of Fukien and Kiangsu forces at Kashing. Bridge No. 34 will form Chekiang's first line of defense and heavy reinforcements have been concentrated here. The second line of defence is at Bridge No. 31, where four field pieces have been set up. No fighting is expected until the end of the week.

WU PEI-FU DEMANDS TEN C.M.S.N. BOATS

Tokio, Sept. 28.—Party leaders of the House of Representatives at a Conference this morning decided to seek an interview with the Premier and the Foreign Minister in regard to Chinese policy, and urge upon them in view of the possibility of the war spreading to the eastern provinces to give close attention to the situation, and take such measures as may be necessary for the protection of Japanese interests there.

This may be regarded as representative of opinion held in many quarters where, while not advocating intervention, it is declared that Japan's special interests and relations with China do not accord with an absolute, unconditional noninterference policy whatever happens, as laid down and insisted upon by the Foreign Office.

STAY GRANTED IN WEBB CASE BY U.S. COURT

Action Is Taken With View To Perfecting Appeal For Defendants

In the United States Court for China, yesterday morning, before Judge Milton D. Purdy, Major C. P. Holcomb applied for a stay of execution in the case of Herbert Webb v. THE CHINA PRESS Inc., in which judgment was given for the plaintiff, on Saturday for $44,800. The application was made on behalf of the defendant company with view to perfecting an appeal.

The motion was opposed by Mr. C. S. Franklin, who said he was not in a position to agree to anything, much less a stay of execution. The only way, he contended in which a stay of execution might be obtained was by means of filing a supersedeas bond to do which the defence had sixty days, if that were not done execution could not be stayed, and counsel argued that under the rule execution could issue after the lapse of two days from the date of judgment.

Mr. Franklin asked for a delay of a short time in order to consult authorities, but later appeared in court and stated that the granting of a stay of execution lay in the sound discretion of the judge.

His Honor granted a stay of forty days.

Mr. Franklin asked that the stay should be shorter as the plaintiff was at present without a position, but his Honor declined to alter the order pointing out that a few days would not make any difference as to when the appeal would be heard in San Francisco.

Trade Commissioner For Los Angeles Here As Civic Press Agent

Los Angeles, fifth largest city in the United States but first in the hearts of its citizenry who regard their city with such loving pride and rose-colored perspective that they refer to big, busy San Francisco, as "a suburb of Los Angeles," has sent a civic press agent to the Orient to further the fame of an already famous city.

Mr. Christopher M. Gordon, of Los Angeles, former port commissioner there, has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of his city to come to the Orient and make a personal survey of the field here. Mr. Gordon's main object is to investigate the avenues of trade between here and Los Angeles with the idea of speeding up business to such an extent that those trade avenues will be jammed with the prosperity of constantly moving merchandise.

The itinerary prepared for Mr. Gordon whose title is "Trade Commissioner to the Orient," includes all the principal points in Japan, Korea, Northern China, Shanghai, Hongkong, Canton and Manila. In explanation of his visit, Mr. Gordon says:

"We in Los Angeles are justly proud of the tremendous growth of our city and every man who can does his bit toward helping Los Angeles grow. Our domestic trade has increased by leaps and bounds but our foreign trade has not gone up proportionately. When I came through the Orient on the world tour of the Laconia in 1922 I was then studying the markets here with a view of reporting on my own to the Chamber of Commerce. This second visit is for the purpose of amplifying the material I gathered while I was freelancing that on that first trip which didn't give me more than a bird's-eye view of the situation, of course."

A REAL ANGELENO

The 12,400 members of the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles can rest assured that in Mr. Gordon, their representative to the Orient, they have a worthy Angeleno, a man who "sells" Los Angeles and its wonders in such wholehearted enthusiastic fashion that he could convince a San necessity of the ships to convey passengers and merchandise.

Meanwhile, the company, following a meeting of the directors on Sunday, has decided to cancel all sailings for North China ports.

The Sin Wan Pao reports that three steamers belonging to a local Chinese steamship company have already been commandeered by the Tientsin military authorities.

LI LIEH-CHUN SEEKS JAPANESE ALLIANCE

General Li Lieh-chun left for Japan on the Empress of Russia on Sunday. Interviewed by newspapermen before his departure, General Li admitted that he was going to Tokio to conclude an understanding with Japan on Sino-Japanese relationship on behalf of Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

"There is an opportunity for a strong Sino-Japanese Alliance in view of the present world chaos," said General Li, "and I have been entrusted by the Generalissimo to approach the Tokio Government for an understanding, which should form the working basis of such an alliance."

Mr. Sun Fu, Dr. Sun's only son, who arrived here with General Li on Friday, called on Generals Lu Yung-hsiang and Ho Feng-lin at the latters' headquarters on Sunday and presented autographed letters from the southern leader. A lengthy conference took place at the Kiangnan Arsenal where plans for joint action between Dr. Sun and the Chekiang leaders were discussed. Mr. Sun will leave here for Mukden tomorrow to serve as his father's representative in the Manchurian Capital.

Captain Li Yen-ching, who assisted Colonel Chang Yi-cheng in the defence of Liuho, was yesterday promoted to be colonel 38th regiment whose commander, Li Ting-mei, was executed last Wednesday for allowing his soldiers to loot Huchow.

The Red Cross announces the receipt of a chassis of a four-cylinder Studebaker to be reconstructed for an ambulance from the manager of the Fei Lung Garage.

235 WOUNDED FROM KIATING SECTOR

Ninty-five wounded were brought back from the Huangtu front on Sunday and 140 more, from the same sector yesterday, according to Dr. W. S. New, field director of the Chinese Red Cross Society. These were conveyed to the Stone Bridge Jetty by boats and rushed to the Tientsin Road Hospital where they were distributed among the 12 hospitals under Dr. New's charge.

Of these, 60 were seriously injured and required major operations. From 7 p.m. Sunday night to 5:30 yesterday morning, Drs. W. L. New, Hiltner and A. H. Swan were kept busy at the Red Cross General Hospital with operations. They were again called upon to resume their work at 9 o'clock yesterday morning until late in the evening. Doctors at the St. Luke's Hospital were also kept busy all day yesterday with surgical performances. Owing to the limited capacity of the Paulun Hospital, only five cases were sent there.

With the arrival of yesterday's record batch, the twelve hospitals now under Dr. New's charge are practically filled and Dr. New will now look out for more hospitals in Shanghai and vicinity for his work.

In view of the imminence of war in Sungkiang, Dr. New yesterday sent out Red Cross Unit 6 to this city in preparation for hostilities.

(China Press Correspondence)

Sungkiang, Sept. 25.—It is estimated that about a thousand soldiers left today on boats, presumably for Tsingpu. Evidently a strong effort is going to be made not only to stop Kiangsu's advance in that direction, but also to break through her lines and go forward. A special train this morning brought Gen. Chwang Tso-ping to our city and the coming of a general of such prominence indicates that something of great importance is about to take place in this region.

The long bridge No. 31, over the Zia Daung between here and Shihhutang was damaged by the Kiangsu agents, so that trains could not go through to Fungching according to schedule. The trackmen say that the damage is small and can easily be fixed. It was news to us down here that bridges 71 and 78 had been blown up by Kiangsu men. It had been accepted that it had been done by the Chekiang men themselves and I have heard no whisper of anything to the contrary. The work of impressing coolies still goes on, and of course, the working class are excited.

"Force Majeure," or "Act of God." The difference may perhaps be illustrated in this way: If troops of the belligerant forces were to set fire to godowns in which quantities of cargo purchased by or belonging to individual foreign merchants were stored, and thereby render it impossible for such merchants to deliver the cargo in execution of their contracts, this could probably constitute what is technically known as "Force Majeure," so that if there is a "Force Majeure" clause in the contracts Shanghai merchants and the parties to whom they have been sold, such merchants might be free from liability for damages for failure to deliver the cargo."

From the above explanation persons will probably appreciate that it is impossible to draft a Declaration of "Force Majeure" which would be of any value, unless the person drafting it could set out the specific facts of each case, showing just how a state of war has set in motion certain forces or causes by which any individual member of any of the foreign chambers of commerce here is prevented form fulfilling specific contracts.

A blanket Declaration of "Force Majeure" issued by a foreign Chamber would not be of any particular value, in the opinion of this attorney.

Two Day Battle Along 30 Mile Front Line

defensive line to be held by a skeleton body of troops. Sunday, eighty engineers were withdrawn from the the Nanziang sector to aid in preparing strong works beyond Sungkiang and there is said to be a complete battalion of artillery in the line right at the railway.

During yesterday, General Ho Feng-lin, General Lu Siao-chao and lesser leaders all either visited the front or went up to stay at field headquarters while the position continued critical.

A new figure was that of General Fong Zeng-ngau, leader of 500 of the new recruits and reported to be a Cantonese.

Last night, the Kiangsu forces twice broke through the Chekiang line north of Huangtu and struck southeast in a menace to cut the railway or proceed down it to Nanziang and twice were thrown back fighting bitterly. Similar actions were threatening at almost every point along the ine.

Oriental Ballet

A really splendid performance was given at the Olymic Theater last night, on the occasion of the presentation of the Grand Oriental Ballet under the direction of Madame Elena Pavlova.

The show consisted of the Classic Ballet and the Azaide Ballet; the latter being divided into two parts and particularly well arranged.

The first ballet, being classical, was performed entirely in white and a peculiar inflexion of dainty rhythm and grace made it more than pleasing to the eye; a far better ballet than has been seen in Shanghai for a long time.

"Aziade," the Oriental ballet, was longer and relatively gorgeous. The costumes of the harem ladies, while being barbarous were sufficiently brilliant to give the necessary touch of color expected in the palace of an Eastern potentate.

M. Krupin, as the Prince, gave a wonderful performance, and his acting at times rose to magnificent heights; as a dancer he is without need of criticism.

Nadeja Pavlova, as the first and chief wife of the Prince, was chosen happily for the part which fitted her like a glove.

Unquestionably the finest part of the performance was that of Madame Elena Pavlova. I have seldom seen such beautiful dancing or impressive acting as that of Pavlova. All through the ballet her parts stood without comparison but in the death scene of the "Aziade" battle she was supreme.

When the Prince is dying from the poisoned wine given him by the captive Aziade—a part taken by Pavlova—he commences to dance, a fantastic swan-song essentially Oriental. The motions to the subtle music are as penetratingly weird as the odour of musk. Madame Pavlova and M. Krupin excelled themselves over all their previous work.

The finale was impressive—dramatic and pulsatingly alive. The death of the Prince, the stricken terror of Aziade, the sudden rush of servants and wives to the dead man's side make a scene that I have never seen bettered on the local stage, and Madame Pavlova, as the organiser of the ballet, deserves the warmest praise for her clever work.

The dancing of the members of the ballet was of a very high order and the performers deserve the heartiest congratulations for so exceptional a ballet.

ENDOWMENT INSURANCE — WHOLE LIFE INSURANCE

Business Life Insurance

IF no Business Insurance is carried on the life of the important member of a firm, the procedure of the leading credit rating houses, such as Dun's and Bradstreet, is this. At his death, credit rating is suspended until the firm's affairs are adjusted and it is known how seriously this death has affected the business. Even a temporary suspension of credit at such a critical time might result seriously to a firm—and this can all be prevented through the medium of Business Life Insurance.

Los Angeles Trade Commissioner Here As Civic Press Agent

Franciscan of the superiority of the Southern city five minutes after he began talking. He marshals his statistics and converses pleasantly but his listener never leaves, nevertheless, without realising that Los Angeles was probably the original site of the Garden of Eden and has never changed.

One hears, for instance, that Los Angeles has constructed a deep-water harbor, built to order, for handling commerce to and from foreign countries. With the result that the city is now first on the Pacific Coast in total intercoastal commerce and second only to New York. An indication of the extremely rapid growth of the city as a port is found in the fact that the harbor customs receipts have increased from one to four million dollars in four years.

Mr. Gordon would not be a true Angeleno if he didn't refer to the climate. He does, in fact he places most of the credit for Los Angeles' rapid growth to its climate and geographical position but states also that with these two advantages the city could not help but grow.

WANT SHIPPING LINE

The ambitions of the Chamber of Commerce of the city, echoing the ambitions of the entire population, extend to a direct steamship line from the Orient to Los Angeles. The direct steamship service recently inaugurated between Los Angeles and the Hawaiian Islands has proved so enormously popular and successful that a steamship service between Southern California and Oriental ports is not being considered seriously.

And then, besides everything else in Los Angeles, there are the movies. More than 250 motion picture producing companies and possibly sixty motion picture studies are located in Los Angeles. In fact, the movies are also a wee bit responsible for the city's growth.

Mr. Gordon, who is in Shanghai at the Astor House, will be in town for some little time before proceeding south.

Armed Robbers Get $127 In Raid Upon Jessfield Rd. Shop

Firing four shots, but injuring no one, five robbers who had held up a general store at 59-60 Jessfield Road, escaped with $127 in cash Saturday night.

The men, the leader of whom had a pistol, entered the shop, and, after frightening the five shop assistants into silence, rifled the cash drawer. Then, in order to ward off pursuit, the man with the pistol fired four shots as all five holdup men fled down an alleyway and escaped into the country.

Kiangsu Fleet All Ready For Action

BY MILES A. GOLDRICK

Chinkiang, September 27.—At the present time the main body of the Kiangsu fleet is retaining its anchorage just fourteen miles upstream from Woosung, and practically opposite the sorely-harassed town of Liuho. The complement at this point consists of seven gunboats and three torpedo boats, all of which have full steam up and apparently are ready for instant maneuvering. This morning when we passed they were busy loading supplies as if a move was in contemplation.

At Tungchow, the headquarters of Mr. Chang Chien the industrial leader, three gun-boats and one torpedo boat are standing by with no apparent signs of activity and the four gunboats at Kiangyin are following the same course.

The main fleet seems to be in readiness to follow up Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan's projected offensive, if it is successful, while the other ships will remain in reserve.

Edmore Boatswain Is Given Sentence For Drunkenness

Fifteen days' imprisonment was the punishment meted out by Judge Milton D. Purdy yesterday in the U. S. Court for China, in a case in which Thorleif Osmundsen, boatswain of the s.s. Edmore was charged with neglect of duty on board that ship, and, by reason of drunkenness, refusing to do lawful acts proper and requisite to be done by him for preserving the vessel from immediate loss, destruction or serious damage.

The District Attorney prosecuted, and Mr. J. B. Davies, specially appointed by the Court, represented the defendant.

The case for the prosecution was that on September 23, the Edmore was afire alongside the Robert Dollar wharf. The fire made considerable headway and the Shanghai Fire Brigade had to be called out and it was found necessary to move the ship from the position it was in to a buoy for the purpose of avoiding danger to other shipping.

As the fire proceeded it became obvious that if it was not checked it might reach the oil reservoir in which there were 1,000 tons of oil which would probably explode endangering the lives of those on board and the other shipping. Consequently at about 4. p.m. the captain gave the order for the ship to be taken from the wharf and this order the first mate conveyed to the accused, whose duty it was to let loose the lines making fast the ship to the wharf.

When the order was given accused was drunk and staggering at the time and for two or three hours prior, and he gave an order to let loose the wrong ropes which would have had the effect of letting the vessel swing, in a manner such as would endanger other ships. The first mate went forward and countermanded the order whereupon the accused said "Well, I am not wanted then." The mate told him he was not and to get off the forecastle, whereupon the defendant went aft, where the second mate had to take him back to his cabin three times on account of his interference with the other men.

Defendant denied that he was intoxicated, but stated that he was one of the first men to attack the fire with a hose and that after an hour or two between decks at that kind of work he had been overcome with the heat and the smoke.

Boxing Notes

By Harvard

The main event at the Carlton Thursday night is a twelve-round go between Young Volaire and Bobby Favacho. Just how interesting an affair it will be depends upon Favacho and his willingness to fight. He is a clever boxer, and if he goes into the ring determined to put his heart into the work it should be a great contest.

As to the comparative ability of the two boys, it is difficult to pronounce one decidedly better than the other. Favacho is quick and clever, packs a good wallop, and outweighs the other boy by fifteen or twenty pounds. This should be enough to give him the decision except for the fact that Volaire, who also has speed and a punch, has sufficient pluck to quite counter-balance Bobby's advantage in pounds. To say that Volaire is a better boxer is a questionable statement. About his being a better fighter there is little doubt.

Favacho is not popular here. There is an opinion more or less generally voiced that he is "yellow," and will not fight any man who can possibly give him a beating. If this general opinion is incorrect it is up to Bobby to show it. He is a clever and capable boy, and if he will come into the ring once and show the fans that he has guts, and is prepared to take punishment, if necessary, as well as give it, there is no reason why he should not be popular with the fans.

A man is not necessarily obliged to take a terrible beating to demonstrate his stamina, but if such a beating faces him he must stick it and not run. One of the most popular boys in Shanghai until recently is a clever youngster who is not a slugger, and whose capacity for punishment is somewhat limited. He is now in danger of losing his popularity altogether, however, so far as fight fans are concerned, owing to what has appeared to be his unwillingness to meet men of his own weight who he knows are prepared to land some ugly wallops on him.

It is believed that Favacho is beginning to realise the necessity of turning over a new leaf. His last few victories have given him confidence, and it is understood that he has promised to do his best to make next Thursday's bout a real ring battle, instead of running away as he did the last time he met Volaire. If Bobby has really decided to fight, he has our best wishes, and everyone will be glad to see this clever lad in the ring again. If he is going to run or quit he will find that he must consider himself pretty nearly through in Shanghai, as no one here will care to match him again, or even to see him fight. It's up to you, Bobby. Think it over. There are some things worse than a beating.

If, as is hoped, Favacho is going to put forth his best stuff next Thursday night in the fight with Volaire, we will see as fine a bout as can possibly be staged out here. The rest of the program, however, is also very promising. In the semi-final Felipe Flores will go up against Benny Forral. These two boys are sluggers, and it should be an excellent fight. Their recent bouts have shown them to be in excellent shape.

Forral appears to be the best boy of the two, but Flores has exhibited some good goods recently and the result of the match is anything but certain. The boys are due to go eight rounds. They will weigh in at about 117 pounds.

In the second event Gonzalo meets Suzara in another eight-round battle. Suzara, as he demonstrated last week in his fight with De Dios, is a good and plucky lad. In going up against Gonzalo he is meeting a boy a few pounds heavier than himself, but he is ready for this. The two lads should give an excellent exhibition.

The curtain-raiser is quite above the usual standard, so everybody come early. It will be between Fighting Fernan and Frisco Peralto, who are very well matched, as they demonstrated a couple of weeks ago when they went six rounds, Fernan getting the decision. This was a pretty raw decree, however, as Peralto landed oftener than the other boy, who failed to get anywhere. The boys are about even weight, and are due to go six rounds on next Thursday's card.

The winner of the Volaire—Favacho bout Thursday will be the next opponent for Andrade, the young Filipino who will soon appear in the ring here. The fight will take place on October 9, if nothing goes wrong, and should be a high-class battle. This Andrade is a lightweight with an excellent reputation. He has met Volaire before, and stopped him in four rounds, which means quite a lot, as Volaire is a things worse than a beat.

If it is Andrade against Volaire next week, we will see what the newcomer can do this time. Volaire is confident that if he goes up against the other boy again it will turn out very differently. If it is Andrade against Favacho,—well, we've said enough about Favacho. Either way it will be a splendid scrap, and very much worth seeing.

Also proposed for next week is a scrap between two big boys who can fight, whatever may be said of them as scientific boxers. The couple being figured on are Nevsky, the Russian cyclone, and Bland, British sailor. Bland is a lightweight, and will enter the rings several pounds lighter than Nevsky, and his great knowledge of the game will probably more than counter-balance this. Most important of all is that he seems to be a boy who is prepared to stand up and swap punches, which is just what Nevsky needs. The Russian lad's last bout, with Tigora two weeks ago, was rather a tame affair, as both boys hugged and wrestled entirely too much. Tigora was perhaps mainly to blame, but Nevsky did his part too. If the Russian had held off and slugged the fight would probably have ended quite differently, and would certainly have been far more interesting.

It takes two to make a fight, however, and Bland appears to be the kind of opponent necessary for the local boy. He has shown up pretty well in training here, and has a fair amount of science, certainly more than Nevsky. He is apparently a fighter, though just how strong a wallop he has remains to be seen. Nevsky probably has more of a punch than the sailor has, and if it lands properly the British boy will be headlined in the home papers as another foreign victim of the fighting in China.

A few more classy Filipino boys arrived here on the McKinley last week, and have already gone into hard training. The best of them is Pete Alberto, a 110-pound boy who can make the flyweight limit but is prepared to go up against bantams. He has fought the best Filipino boys we know here, from featherweights down, and has a brilliant reputation which is fully supported by what we have seen of him in training here. He fought a draw with Canion, who outweighed him by several pounds, in a ten-round battle, and it appears sustained no serious injuries.

Now we submit that a boy that can give Canion several pounds, fight a ten-round draw with him, and sleep comfortably the same night, is going some. Ask Messrs. Tingle and Garcia, who also had the gratifying experience of fighting long-length draws with Rufe. It is understood that Billy's fractured jaw is quite all right again, by the way, and other news from the front advise that Leonardo was released from hospital best Friday morning the day after the night before.

In another fight with Canion, however, Alberto lost on points in eight rounds. His position with regard to Johnny Hill is also undecided, but is that of a first-class boy, as he has met him three times, once winning from Johnny, another time losing, and another time fighting a draw. He also has gained decisions on points over de Dios, Keenan, and Gabo. He appears to be the real thing.

Another of the new boys is Folyano, who fights at 110 pounds, and who has an excellent record, though mostly with boys unknown in Shanghai. He has fought de Dios, however, and won from him on points, which is instructive considering the difference in weight.

Clever Valli, another high-class Filipino boy, has also gone into hard training here. This youngster is a bantam, has a good rep, and will be a worthy match for some of the local boys. He has shown up pretty well in training, and it will be interesting to see him in the ring.

The Oriental Boxing Association, which is bringing out these boys, is certainly staging some splendid fights, both with local youngsters and newcomers, and it seems as if the quality is definitely on the up-grade. Accidents happen, of course, and cannot be avoided altogether, but in general the fight programs look fine, and are promising to get even better. Barring the unforeseen, we can now figure with some certainty on seeing a really good fight card at the Carlton every Thursday night.

Now we know what's the matter with Billy Tingle. The secret came out last night when we were informed that Mrs. William Tingle gave birth to a little girl at the Victoria Nursing Home at 3.30 p.m. Congratulations, Billy! Now that this little disturbance is over we hope to see you at the Carlton again soon.

RIFLE FIRING TO BE RESUMED ON RANGE TOMORROW

Col. Gordon Issues Notice; S.V.C.—Annual Shoot Now Opening

It is announced by Col. W. F. L. Gordon, C.M.G., D.S.O., Commandant of the S.V.C., that rifle firing will take place on the Volunteer Rifle Range daily beginning tomorrow morning, October 1. # Shanghai Beats Huron 2-1 In Unofficial Game

Shanghai came back at the team from the U. S. S. Huron Sunday afternoon at Pioneer Field beating them 2—1 in a game more interesting than Saturday's, when the sailors won 4—1. It was a close contest Sunday, and very much worth seeing, though the light rain which fell shortly before the game kept the crowd away. Incidentally, THE CHINA PRESS appears to be the first paper to report the game, none of our four local contemporaries having printed a line about it yesterday.

Scott pitched for Shanghai, and held down the visitors pretty well. In the first inning the visitors scored a run, primarily due to a pop fly which Smith, on second, muffed. The sailor reached second, and the next man up singled to center and brought the other home, but this was the end of the scoring for the Huron team. The sailors reached first a few times, once due to Tavares, who played left field yesterday, muffing a fly, but there were no more runs coming in and hits were few and far between. Two hits came in the second, but a pretty double play stopped the sailors.

In the Gallopers' scoring Bullard and Mitchell were the stars, both crossing the plate and knocking out singles at critical moments. Not that there was very much scoring. Shanghai got in two runs, one in the first and another in the fifth inning, but the Huron pitcher served up an excellent article of ball and kept the local boys down to very few hits. He was very well supported.

Bullard was the first man up in Shanghai's half of the first inning, and drew a pass. Bills, who followed him, fanned, but Claire, who caught yesterday's game, singled through second, Bullard getting to third on the hit. Jawn Scott then demonstrated that he could work both on the scoring and the pitching end, knocking a short one right down the base line and beating it out to first, Bullard coming home. Claire got to third, and with two men on bases and none down it looked as if something more was coming, but Claire was caught off third and Smith was thrown out at first.

In the fifth, when Shanghai crossed the plate again, it was thanks to timely hits by Mitchell and Bullard, plus a wild heave by the sailors' second-sacker. McEnery, the first man up, was thrown out at first on a short roller, but Mitchell hit one between first and second which the Huron's second-baseman picked up and chucked a couple of yards over their initial sacker's head, Mitchell going right ahead to second, Bullard then came through with a timely hit through second upon which Mitchell came home for the deciding run of the game.

In the second inning a clever double play, Smith to Bolton, stopped the visitors when they were looking a bit dangerous. The first two men up singled, and the next one knocked a grounder to second which Smith nabbed, catching one sailor off second and shooting the ball over to Bolton before the hitter reached the initial sack,—a very pretty play, and which fully made up for Smith's muff in the first inning.

The grounds were in good condition for the game, in spite of the light rain which had fallen, and it was unfortunate that so few people turned up. Some of the Shanghai team even failed to appear, and it was necessary to take on two outsiders to make up the local team. For this reason Sunday's game was unofficial, and will not count in the record of the Shanghailanders with the Huron nine. It is possible that the two teams will play a series of seven games or so, which should be very interesting, as they are well matched. Two games are to be played the coming week-end between the teams, and we may expect to see some splendid exhibitions.

Score by innings:

| | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Huron | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | —1 |

Another Walking Match To Be Held Here In November

Meeting Thursday To Arrange Details; Appeal For American Team

Another International Walking Match will be held here in November. The walk last year, it will be remembered, was very successful, there being many competitors and excellent time made. An invitation has already been issued to all teams and individuals interested to meet at Shepherd's Hotel next Thursday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., for the discussion of all matters pertaining to the match and the appointment of committees to manage all the various details connected with it.

It is especially desirable to get an American team into this year's match. Last year only one American participated in the match, there being no team, and the suggestion is naturally made that others got cold feet. It should certainly be possible to get four good walkers to make up an American team here in Shanghai.

All persons interested in participating in this match are urged to start training at once. Further information regarding the event can be obtained from Mr. W. L. Gerrard, of Messrs. Duncan and Company, at 32 Avenue Edward VII, with whom entries can also be made. In the meantime, it is especially requested that everyone interested attend the meeting on Thursday afternoon, and not waste any time in getting ready for the match.

His visit to Tsingtao is generally considered to be the preliminary step for the mobilisation of his fleet in the direction of the Gulf of Pecheli.

France Threatened With Revival Of Religious Strife

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 27.—The revival of religious strife in France is threatened as the result of the French Cardinals addressing a letter to M. Herriot begging him not to execute the decision to suppress the French Embassy at the Vatican or strictly to enforce the existing laws regarding religious congregations, and urging the maintenance of the happy rapprochement of the Church and State which the war effected.

While the clerical Gaulois considers that the letter will profoundly impress the consciences of all who are not blinded by stupid sectarianism, the Quotidien regards the letter as a demonstration of hostility to the Government and a provocation of civil war and urges M. Herriot to accept the challenge to the Republic. The Oeuvre says that the priestly unctuousness of the letter scarcely conceals its threat.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 28.—Replying to the Cardinals' letter, M. Herriot does not admit that the peace of the country is threatened by the measures recently taken. The Premier declares that the Government will not interfere with freedom of worship but they cannot permit French interests to be defended by any authority except that of the nation.

U. S. Court Hearing On Morton Estate

In the matter of the last will and testament of the late Capt. H. E. Morton, who died in September of last year in Manila, Mr. Sidney A. Moss applied that letters of administration should be issued by the United States Court for China, before Judge Milton D. Purdy yesterday morning.

Counsel stated that while Capt. Morton died in Manila, all the property of which he was then possessed was in Shanghai and the reason why he was asking for the will to be probated was that he would then be able to claim Capt. Morton's share of his father's estate in Ireland, for the deceased's wife.

The Court ordered that letters of administration should issue.

ANGLO-SOVIET TREATY UPHELD BY MACDONALD

Premier, In Speech At Derby, Champions Program Of His Government

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 27.—On Mr. Ramsay MacDonald departing from St. Pancras today to deliver at Derby his first political speech since the recess a group of men in working-clothes shouted: "Stick to the Russian Treaty, Ramsay, even if you fall."

Addressing a packed audience at Derby, the Prime Minister said that Labor's opponents were now beginning to be afraid because the Labor Government had not ruined the country but had proved their fitness to govern better than they.

Referring to the convocation of Parliament on Tuesday, Mr. MacDonald appealed to all parties to come together to secure the fulfilment of the country's solemn bargain with South Ireland. Replying to an interruption he said that Ulster must be fairly dealt with equally with the South.

The Prime Minister, referring to the difficulties of the League of Nations, said that war must be outlawed. The Labor Government would yet establish conditions under which men would not fear war.

The speaker dwelt chiefly on the Russian Treaty. He knew there were difficulties in that connection, Mr. MacDonald said; and explanations must be given. He had been called a Bolshevist because he sought to make peace with Russia. Should he be called a Mohammedan if he would make peace with Turkey?

Great Britain had secured many valuable concessions under the Treaty. The Russian market would be reopened, and propaganda had been stopped. We had succeeded where previous Governments had failed in getting Russia to admit her debts, and in establishing machinery to fix liability.

Mr. Lloyd George had levied war on Russia, Mr. MacDonald continued, which consequently had made a counterclaim. We had not yet settled the claims, but had drafted a document, which we believe would settle them. We were not giving a loan to Russia. We were only only guaranteeing a loan, the purposes of which had been clearly defined.

Mr. MacDonald ridiculed the suggestion that the loan would be of £100,000,000. That was the amount Mr. Lloyd George had got on his conscience (laughter). Not a third of it had ever been mentioned.

The loan, Mr. MacDonald stated, would be largely spent on the purchase of goods and materials in Britain.

It was impossible to bring peace to Europe if Russia were left out, the Prime Minister continued. That was the biggest reason for the Treaty.

"We won't ask the House of Commons for a blank cheque. If they will not permit us to make the Treaty, it had better censure us." The Prime Minister did not think that the country wanted a break, but, he declared, "if forced to go, we shall go on the public platform" (cheers).

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 27.—In his speech at Derby, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald defined the Russian Treaty as the second stage in the efforts of the Labor Goyernment to make peace with Russia. "When you make peace with a country", he declared, "you do not associate yourself with its Government, its religion, its laws, its habits of life."

There were two treaties; the first a treaty of commerce and navigation, including a most-favored nation clause whereby, inter alia, the export credits scheme would operate to Russia and British goods in transit through Russia would not be subject to duty; and the second a general treaty which concerned, inter alia, propaganda and debts.

The Prime Minister emphasised that Britain was not committed. The Government were prepared to recommend the British Parliament to guarantee a loan when the Government agreed to the conditions. The loan would be limited to an amount agreed on by the House of Commons, it would be spent in a way acceptable to the House and it would be guaranteed on securities which the House regarded as good.

MANY WOUNDED ARE BROUGHT TO HOSPITALS HERE

St. Luke's Is Kept Busy With Surgical Cases From Kating Front

Despite persistent rumors that no more wounded soldiers would be brought into hospitals in the Settlement, St. Luke's Hospital yesterday was kept busy from early morning until a late hour receiving serious surgical cases, men who had been wounded in the fighting on Sunday and Monday on the front between Kating and Anting.

Ambulances and trucks bringing in the wounded began to arrive at the hospital at 8:30 yesterday morning. The hospital authorities had been warned to "clear out" as many as possible in expectation of a new batch of seriously wounded and these arrived yesterday.

It was estimated that more than thirty of the worst cases had been attended to at four o'clock yesterday. Most of the wounded were cared for more quickly than would have been possible otherwise for there was a merciful absence of the serious abdominal wounds which up to now, have been very frequent.

The first few Chekiang soldiers brought into the hospital were accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Koch, a foreign missionary who was in charge of two missions in the battle area and who fled only when the bombardment of the town in which he was staying became intensely severe and dangerous. Most of the men were conveyed to the hospital in the big, jolting trucks, with only some straw thrown on the floor to ease the terrific hardship of the journey.

Townsmen Of Youth, Prince's Assailant, Swear Allegiance

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Yamaguchi, Japan, Sept. 21.—The young man, who attempted to assassinate the Prince Regent last December, is a native of this town, situated in South Japan, near Shimonoseki.

His father was, at the time, a member of the House of Representatives, but he immediately retired from politics and has since shut himself up in his house here.

The people of Yamaguchi were no less shocked at the news and have since been making plans to reassure their loyalty to the Imperial Throne.

Taking the first opportunity since the details of the case were released for publication by the Government about a week ago, there were gathered today at the public park here over three thousand officials and citizens, including Prince Mori, the descendant of the Feudal Lord of Yamaguchi, and an oath was taken by the gathering pledging allegiance to the Imperial family.

The ceremony was conducted according to the Shinto ritual, and the oath was taken not by kissing the bible, but reading an address to the spirits of the great patriots who hailed from Yamaguchi.

All theaters and places of entertainments were closed for the day.

There has been heavy fighting in the Larache sector near Reinaros in which the enemy met with severe losses. A few Spanish officers were were among the casualties. The Spanish troops, in a sortie to the south of Iseisuan, carried the enemy positions. A hundred and twenty of the enemy were killed.

Danenberg Recital

If Emil Danenberg continues as he has begun, one may predict great things for his future. On Saturday night at the Lyceum Theater he gave proof of exceptional ability and through a long program of over 30 pieces, his memory faithfully served him with but one noticeable lapse. He seemed perfectly at home with Bach and Beethoven, with Ravel and Debussy, and played with an ease and facility truly astonishing. The most difficult passages presented no stumbling block to the youthful player, and he attacked the last number on the program with as much eagerness as he had done the first.

Anti-Opium Manifesto Is Issued By Y.M.C.A.

The various branches of the Y. M. C. A. have just issued an anti-opium manifesto in a concerted attempt to stem the opium evil which the educated Chinese now recognize one of the most insidious evils in their land.

The manifesto follows:

"Opium has held its venomous sway in China for over a century, doing incalculable harm to the people. In the early years of the Republic the law forbidding its cultivation, importation and consumption was energetically enforced, and for a time there was the hope of the complete extinction of the drug.

"During the last few years, however, owing to the continuation of internal unrest, civil war, and the repeated visitations of floods and famine, the prohibition of opium has gradually fallen into neglect. As a result there is a recrudescence of the evil which threatens once more to make this land its domain. If this is allowed to happen it will mean the deterioration of the nation's physical strength, the destruction of its moral character, and the country will be reduced irretrievably to a position of forlornness and hopelessness.

"This question also has its international significance. If the opium evil is allowed to spread in China it will not only mean the loss of honor and respect by the countres concerned in its perpetuation, but it will endanger the existence of the great Chinese race among the family of nations. May we stop to think over the seriousness of the situation.

LEAGUE CONFERENCE

"The League of Nations realising the gravity of the situation has called an anti-opium conference to be participated in by countries in the East and those having possessions in the East. This Conference, which is to take place in Geneva, Switzerland, this November, while considering the limitation of the cultivation, production and consumption of opium in the entire world, will pay special attention to conditions in China. This is therefore an opportune time for the nation to arise and make a resolute effort to rid the country of its curse. On the one hand we should enlist the co-operation of the whole nation and conduct an internal campaign which will put an end to opium once and for all time; on the other, we should demonstrate to the entire world our determination to rid ourselves of this evil.

"The Young Men's Christian Association of China has for its objective the building of all-round Christian character through a program embracing the spiritual, intellectual, physical and social development of the young manhood of China. The Association has always opposed the opium evil as being most detrimental to this four-fold development. In view of the present urgent situation the National Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of China adopted, at its Annual Meeting July 29-31, 1924, the following resolutions:

"Resolution 5: The National Committee of the Y. M. C. A. at its annual meeting expresses itself unequivocably as being opposed to the opium evil.

"Resolution 6: Our local associations in cooperation with organizations within and without the church should do their utmost to assist eradicate the opium evil. Foreign friends willing to cooperate will be welcomed as advisors.

We shall heartily approve the adoption of measures by the Anti-Opium Conference at Geneva to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations this November for the limitation of the production and consumption of opium, morphia and other narcotic derivatives.

COMMITTEE NAMED

"An Anti-Narcotic Committee consisting of Secretaries of the National Committee has been specially appointed to promte a nation-wide ant-opium campaign.

"In consequence of these actions the National Committee in cooperation with over thirty other organisations including the National Christian Council, the Association for the Advancement of Education, the Kiangsu Educational Association, the China Medical Association and the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce took action to promote and organise a National Anti-Opium Association, which now includes over thirty national and local organisations, whose united efforts now mark the beginning of a general campaign to free country of opium.

"The 240 City and Student Young Men's Christian Associations spread over the whole country have been requested to take energetic measures, in co-operation with local bodies, to promote a campaign of opium extermination, which must be dealt with from the aspects of complete cessation of cultivation, transportation and consumption.

"The Young Men's Christian Association has definitely committed itself to the carrying out of this program and will not cease until the nation is emancipated from the opium evil and until the opium menace has become a thing of the past.

"This is as much the duty of the whole nation as it is that of the Y. M. C. A. whose purpose is to serve the nation in the best way possible. May all of us, citizens of this land, arise and join in this crusade against the common enemy and continue until victory is ours!"

The National Anti-Opium Association of China has also issued the following petition to the conference called under the auspices of the League of nations for the Control of narcotics.

1. Whereas the welfare of the whole human race is threatened by the rapid increase in the use of opium and allied narcotic drugs for other than scientific or medicinal purposes.

"2. Whereas in China there is a manifest recrudescence of this evil in recent year, due to the prevailence of civil strike entailing the regrettable reglect of the law for the suppression of opium and in part to the increased importation of narcotics from other lands.

"3. Whereas Chinese emigrants and traders living in the Straits Settlement, East Indies and other territories under the jurisdiction of other power have to a considerable extent been victims of opium and allied narcotics.

"4. Whereas we believe cooperation by all nations in controlling production, manufacture and sale of opium and its allied narcotics is the most effective way till deal with this menace.

"We, who as a people have been the direct sufferers because of this evil, while affirming our determination, as representing the will of the Chinese nation, to eradicate the production and consumption of opium in China in the immediate future and committing ourselves to overvome all obstructions to this end, hereby respectfully petition your conferences to secure an agreement among all nations to limit the production on opium and its derivatives and of cocaine strictly to the amount required by scientific and medicinal purposes, thereby greatly helping not only the Chinese but also the people of other lands in their struggle to overthrow this evil, and so using the unique opportunity to fulfil the mission entrusted to you to render a service to the whole human family.

There is no Satisfactory Substitute for Keds!

Keds are the standard by which all canvas rubber-soled shoes are judged. They make you proud of their appearance as well as enthusiastic about their comfort and wear.

Keds, of course, vary in price according to type. But no matter what kind of Keds you buy, every pair gives you the highest possible value at the price.

They're good-looking shoes, Keds. There's a cut and style to them that give your feet that trim look—yet, they're tough, springy and long wearing.

Your feet couldn't be cooler or more comfortable unless you wore sandals!

Remember—while there are other shoes that may at first glance look like Keds, no other shoes can give you Keds value. Keds are made only by the United States Rubber Company. If the name KEDS isn't on the shoes, they aren't real Keds.

PROTECTION OF FOREIGNERS IS ORDERED BY WU

Special Instructions Given In Manifesto Issued By Chihli Leader

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 27.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu this afternoon issued a manifesto the preamble of which says that foreign visitors invariably ask whether, in view of the fact that people of various nationalities are residing along the South Manchurian Railway and the Chinese Eastern Railway, the punitive expedition would accord fullest protection to foreign lives and property there, and, in view of the above facts, whether the expedition is likely to raise diplomatic questions.

Answering these questions the manifesto explains the necessity to protect foreign interests, in which connection special instructions have been given to commanders.

"The Three Eastern Provinces are in close proximity to our eastern neighbor, Japan, and special attention will be directed to maintaining the status quo, while existing rights will not be ignored, denied or violated.

"Furthermore, friendly nations have on more than one occasion declared that they would not interfere in China's internal troubles.

"I highly appreciate this attitude but want to make the point clear that the punitive expedition against Marshal Chang Tso-lin is an action on the part of the Central Government to quell a rebellion. There is a difference between such an expedition and a war between nations. For a Government to use their own forces to put down a rebellion offers little occasion for assistance from a third party. The term non-intervention should include the removal of obstacles in the way of the expeditionary forces and in case of necessity facilities should be extended to the forces of the Government. This I hold reasonable as well as permissible in international courtesy. If non-intervention is erroneously interpreted as restriction of the movement of Government troops then it becomes rendering of assistance or affording of facilities to the rebels."

The manifesto refers to the desire of foreign Powers for reunification and the ill effects of disunion upon foreign interests in China. It says that the separation of the Manchurian provinces has given rise to many diplomatic questions for which the Central Government found it difficult to assume responsibility, and entailed considerable inconvenience to friendly Powers.

Marshal Wu Pei-fu hopes, therefore, that the Powers will continue to support China's efforts to realize re-unification and to maintain their policy of non-intervention in such a spirit as not to restrict the hands of the Government.

In conclusion the manifesto says that the mere protection of lives and property in time of war is a matter only of small consideration.

DR. SUN FACED BY NEW THREAT OF MERCHANTS

Volunteers Tender War Fund To Chen Chiung-ming To Oust Leader

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 27.—Dr. Sun's scheme for the despatch of his expeditionary forces against the North has apparently met with a great setback. Rumor is rife that the expedition will be postponed for the present.

Investigation into the circumstances that have given rise to such rumors reveals that with regard to the question of transfer of the arms and ammunition, the Government, despite its repeated announcements, has still failed to fulfil its promise, though the Merchants' Volunteer Corps has fully observed all the stipulations laid down by the Government.

Consequently, the Merchants' Volunteer Corps, as a final step, have recently raised military funds amounting to $700,000 and offered the sum to General Chen Chiung-ming, who, acting in co-operation with General Fang Pen-jen, is now threatening to press hard on Canton.

The vanguards of General Chen Chiung-ming have already advanced so far that they are about to break through the defence line from Sheklung to Tsengcheng. In case General Fang Pen-jen actually starts activities, General Chen will, it is expected, also start a strong offensive in the region of the East River.

On the other hand, the Yunnan troops under the command of General Fan Shih-shen are showing a tendency to declare their independence acting in unison with General Chen Chiung-ming, to announce the nature of crimes as alleged to have been committed by Dr. Sun and to demand that he retire from the political field in the South for good and all.

Handbills, demanding from Dr. Sun his prompt retirement from the political field, have been distributed in the streets here and the atmosphere is thus growing from bad to worse against the Government again. Unless the Government can tide over this critical stage, it appears that the outbreak of certain serious political disturbances will be inevitable.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Sept. 28.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen intended to return today to meet Mr. Hsu Shih-ying, a former member of the Peking Cabinet, who arrives tomorrow as a representative of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, but a military review and demonstration which is being held at Shaokuan on October 1 requires Dr. Sun's presence.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Sept. 28.—Six thousand Hunanese troops are passing through Canton from the East River to the North River.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Sept. 23.—For the first time in Canton there has been opened, this autumn, a school for deaf, dumb, blind, and lame children. The institution is charitable, and is free to all as far as tuition is concerned, but those boarding there will be charged five dollars a month.

A part of the Cantonese Army in Kongmoon mutinied against the authorities of Canton on September 21 by ousting the chief of police commissioned by the Civil Governor in Canton. Brigadier-General Leung Chen-kai forcibly broke into the Kongmoon Police Station, took over the seal of office, and proclaimed himself chief, pending instructions from his superior officers.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen's recent order abolishing all the miscellaneous taxes in Canton does not, it is said, include that of three percent. fees for the inspection of land deeds.

From October 1, 1924, sales of cosmetics will be subjected to a stamp duty of ten percent. This is the latest war-tax of Dr. Sun. The dealers in these articles are protesting that most of their goods are imported and that they pay the customs duty and the usual likin.

Following the example of retail silk shops along Ti Kau Po Street in Canton, hog dealers in Market street have gone on strike as a protest against the recent increase in tax and likin rates. Two months ago the taxes were increased by 20 and in some cases by 50 percent, and a few days ago they were made payable in national currency instead of in local coins, which means another increase of about 25 percent.

The wholesale dismissal of magistrates in 19 districts out of the 96 nominally under Dr. Sun Yat-sen's jurisdiction is threatened by the Civil Governor, says a report, unless the portion of war contributions each has been assigned to raise for Dr. Sun is forthcoming within the next few days.

Objections Of Japanese Cause Stir At Geneva

terludes in the course of the discussion.

Signor Scialoja (Italy) suggested the examination of the protocol in a calmer atmosphere by a committee of experts.

M. Loucheur (France) declared that if the Council did not do its duty any of the provisions of the protocol would be in vain. He proposed that the Japanese amendment should be referred to a sub-committee.

Thereupon the committee rose.

The protocol will now probably not come to the Assembly before Tuesday.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 27.—Dr. Benes (Czecho-Slovakia) today submitted to the Third Committee a report indicating the final shape of the disarmament protocol; which is described as an immense advance on anything hitherto done.

Article VI establishes an obligation not to resort to war and completes Article X of the Covenant of the League of Nations. Thus, the Council of the League is competent to deal with every threat of war.

Article VII obliges signatories to abstain from action calculated to aggravate a dispute and entails sanctions. Thus, the Council is invested with full powers of investigation into appeals against a violation of the protocol. It is also entrusted with the duty of calling on a guilty State to remedy the offence and of deciding on measures to terminate a situation threatening world peace. The text does not define the nature of the preventative measures. Its elasticity permits the Council to take measures appropriate to each case. Any such decisions of the Council will be by a two-thirds majority.

It will be the duty of the Council to recommend to the several Governments concerned what effective military, naval and air forces the members of the League shall severally contribute towards the armed force to be used to protect the Covenant. Each State will remain in possession of its forces and itself, not the Council, direct them.

Dr. Benes explained that when the Council calls on signatories to enforce sanctions it will become the regulating rather than an advisory body, but not the executive body.

The report concludes by submitting a resolution recommending members of the League to accept the protocol, requesting the Council to convene an international conference for the reduction of armaments at Geneva and inviting the Council immediately to appoint a committee to prepare the text of the armament covenant mentioned in the protocol.

In the course of the discussion Sir James Allen (New Zealand) said that he did not object to the sanctions laid down but asked for an explanation as to the position of non-signatory States. He also asked that it should be made clear which States would in advance furnish information as to the forces available in the event of sanctions; whether they were States signing the protocol or all members of the League. If these points were made clear he thought that the protocol would be satisfactory as far as New Zealand was concerned. If New Zealand did not sign the protocol it would leave her under the existing obligations only.

Dr. Benes furnished the explanations, and the Committee then adjourned.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 28.—Mr. Adatchi's amendment to Article V of the arbitration protocol was as follows: ". . . without prejudice to the Council's duty of endeavoring to conciliate the parties so as to assure the maintenance of peace and good understanding between nations."

Mr. Adatchi said that there was a gap in the Covenant of the League and it was their duty to fill it up. The Japanese delegate hoped therefore, that the committee would agree to his amendment, which was the result of long and careful reflection.

Finally, Mr. Adatchi withdrew the amendment "under express reservations on the whole protocol." The point is not yet completely cleared up. Mr. Adatchi has not yet made up his mind, but he will probably finally give way.

Later.—The Japanese Delegation has declared its inability to adhere to Article VI of the disarmament protocol, which allows a country to claim that a matter in dispute is soley one of domestic jurisdiction.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 28.—The Third Committee completed its labors last night with the adoption of the report by Dr. Benes and of a resolution moved by M. Lange (Norway) with regard to certain desiderata to be submitted to the Council of the League when preparing the general program for the conference on disarmament. Several articles of Dr. Benes's report were modified but not substantially. Thus the part of the protocol dealing with security and disarmament has been completed and there now remains only the section dealing with arbitration which, it is hoped, will be completed tomorrow.

The Council today agreed to a plan of investigation by the League of the armaments of vanquished States, replacing the system of inter-Allied military control. According to the plan, a commission of investigation will be formed composed of representatives of members of the Council. It will include at least one neutral member and a representative of a bordering State signatory to the peace treaties. Further, when examining any question relating to the investigations, the Permanent Advisory Commission shall invite assessors representing bordering countries.

The draft budget for 1925 to be submitted to the Assembly of the League totals 22,658,000 gold francs, a diminution of 670,000 gold francs as compared with 1924.

The Fourth Committee, of which Mr. Adatchi (Japan) is chairman, today passed a credit for the labors of the experts entrusted with the drawing up of the amendments to the Covenant foreshadowed in the disarmament protocol.

The Assembly has decided to postpone to the next session a resolution submitted by Great Britain defining the extent of an economic blockade against a State violating the Covenant. The resolution, which is in the nature of an amendment to Article 16 of the Covenant, enjoins all members rigidly to enforce cessation of financial, commercial and personal relations direct or indirect between them and a defaulting state.

The juridical clause of the protocol as drafted by the subcommission and presented to the Committee today imposes the same sanctions on non-member States as on member in the event of their refusal to conform to the new procedure of pacific settlement.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 28.—The newspapers emphasise the criticalness of the Japanese attitude at Geneva. The Echo de Paris declares that the protocol is tottering and threatened with ruin, whatever settlement is reached.

The Matin's special correspondent at Geneva refers to the "tragic character of yesterday's sitting, and the indescribable emotion evoked by Mr. Adatchi's declaration," and is of the opinion that the Japanese will remain adamant.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 27.—Additional particulars of the objection raised by Mr. Adatchi (Japan) in the First Committee at Geneva yesterday show that he refused to agree to the stipulation that the International Court of Justice should have the final voice in determining whether or not a matter in dispute could be, regarded as solely of "domestic jurisdiction" but insisted that the Council of the League of Nations must be given the last word.

The Times correspondent in Geneva says that it is assumed that Mr. Adatchi and Sir Cecil Hurst, the British representative, will confer with a view to enabling Japan to sign without reservation, but it is clear that the difference of view is fundamental.

It is supposed, says the correspondent, that Japan wishes in no circumstances to render it illegal to intervene in China's affairs in various unobtrusive ways. At the same time respect is felt for the scrupulous regard which Japan evidently feels for an undertaking she signs.

The correspondent of the Manchester Guardian in Geneva declares that the crisis due to Mr. Adatchi's amendment is serious and unless a solution is found all efforts made in Geneva during the past month will come to nothing.

He says that M. Loucheur (France) in general supported the Japanese demand, which, Mr. Adatchi made unmistakably clear, was in the nature of an ultimatum, and though Mr. Adatchi ultimately withdrew the amendment, in view of the impossibility of securing unanimity in its favour, he announced that Japan made most express reservations in regard to the whole protocol, particularly the arbitration clauses.

The Manchester Guardian, in an editorial article, says that the latest obstacle in Geneva should never have artisen. It is obvious, as a broad principle, that the League of Nations must disclaim the right to interfere in the internal affairs of its members. The principle already stands in Article 15 of the Covenant, which Japan has signed. One may guess her motives, says the Journal. The International Court would undoubtedly hold that the Immigration Laws of America are a domestic matter not calling for recommendation or amendment. Japan has also been making demands of China which the latter has resisted. In this case also Japan could expect no assistance from the League of Nations, but why should she? What possible justification can there be for a claim to interfere in the internal affairs of another country?

(French Wireless Through Reuter)

Paris, Sept. 27.—The Assembly at Geneva has taken cognisance of a report submitted by M. Fernandez Y Medina (Uruguay) on the project of Senator Ciraolo relative to the formation of a federation of an international character for assisting peoples struck by some sudden calamity.

The Assembly also took cognisance of a proposal by M. Fermandez Y Medina in regard to organising throughout the world a system of instruction in the work accomplished up to the present by the League of Nations, and also to popularise the idea of the League of Nations.

WATCH THE FRUIT YOUR CHILDREN EAT

Whilst most ripe, sound fruits are good for children there is danger in fruit which is green, over-ripe or damaged, among the least of the evils to be feared from such fruit being acute indigestion, diarrhoea and worms.

When you have reason to suspect that your child has eaten fruit of a doubtful character the best course is to administer a dose of Baby's Own Tablets at once, for these Tablets quickly but gently cleanse the stomach and bowels, and can be given with absolute safety even to the youngest or most delicate infant.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are also a specific for teething troubles, constipation, colds, and croup. They bring calm, natural, healthgiving sleep and promote regular development. From chemists, or direct and post free at 60 cents the vial from. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Tientsin Business At Standstill Now

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, September 28.—Owing to floods and warfare, communication between here and the interior has been cut off with the consequence that there is at present very little or no gathering of goods here and that the condition of the market is extremely depressed.

As a result of shortage of raw materials and fuel, and with freights congested and prices of commodities higher, the lower classes are suffering severely. Japanese and other foreign merchants here are doing very little business.

Consume Leaves As Famine Overtakes Shensi Province

(China Press Correspondence)

Fenchowfu, Sept. 19.—Steady rains during the past ten days make possible the planting of winter wheat. Although this cannot take the place of the complete crop failure of this year, it does bring much needed encouragement.

In spite of fair crops in some parts of the province, there is already much distress in the district west from Fenchowfu to the Yellow River. This area had no rains either spring or summer and all crops were a complete failure. The distress and need are aggravated by the fact that there has been no chance to fill the public store houses since the last famine. Most of them are only one to two-tenths refilled. An added difficulty is that whereas during the famine of 1921-2 there were big crops in Shensi, this year there is absolutely no crop in all Northern Shensi. Already people are using leaves to increase the bulk of their food and many cases of sale of children are reported. There have been several suicides due to discouragement over lack of any resources.

Chinese Government Railways
Kiaochow Tsinan Line

The public is hereby informed that it is the policy of the Railway to purchase railway materials and supplies of the best quality at the lowest price. If merchants wish to transact business with this Railway, they are advised to offer goods of high quality and quote reasonable prices. Under no circumstances shall special gifts or rebates be given to the Railway purchasing agent or other agents of this Railway and no secret understandings shall be tolerated.

Ever since I took office as Managing Director, I have been informed of the above-mentioned practices adopted by different merchants in soliciting the business of this Railway. I really detest such business methods and have therefore put the matter under thorough investigation.

Recently I was greatly surprised to receive several letters from a certain company promising me a certain percentage taken out of their net profit as a gift if we gave them our orders. I have come to the conclusion that the rumour of offering an illegal commission to the staff of our Materials Department is not without foundation. it was really demoralising for this latter company to contemplate bribery under the disguise of such high-sounding terms as rebates and gifts, instead of doing business with us honestly.

We all know that rebates or gifts are nothing but another form of bribery. Morally, it lowers one's character and legally, both the giver and the receiver should be put under the penalty of the Law. During my administration of this Railway, I shall deadly fight against such dishonesty as bitter enemy and shall see that this virgin field not to be sowed with those undesirable seeds. Therefore let it be known to all whom it may concern that any merchant doing business with this Railway shall hereafter follow the proper course of business transaction and shall enter fair competition with other business men. On no account shall dishonest methods be tolerated which, I believe, will have an effect in the preservation of merchants' good name.

Should bribery or cases of a like nature be discovered, the Railway employee or employees who received such gifts, irrespective of the amount, shall be dismissed immediately and punished accordingly. The name of the bribing firm, irrespective of its nationality, shall be made known to the public through the publicity of the newspapers and such a company shall be permanently deprived of the privilege of submitting tenders to the Railway. I earnestly hope that this will be clearly understood.

Chinese Government 5% Reorganization Gold Loan of 1923

The bonds of this issue have become a very popular investment, and by this time a considerable portion is being held in China. The loan is secured on the Salt Administration's income and, in case of funds from this source being insufficient, on the surplus of the Customs revenue. Repayment by annual drawings which are to begin in 1924 and to terminate in 1960, when the total face amount of £25 millions in to be repaid. The Chinese Government has the right to refund the entire outstanding portion of the said loan in 1930, upon giving six months notice and upon paying 2½% above par to holders.

The first drawing of bonds has actually taken place in March 1924. A total of £245,940 has been drawn for redemption. Future drawings for steadily increasing amounts will take place annually according to a fixed schedule.

This loan issue is unique, inasmuch as it gives the holder the option to collect interest and capital (when due) in either one of the five currencies prevailing in the countries of issue namely in £, Francs, Yen, Roubles or Marks. Bonds were issued in coupures of £20:—or its gold equivalent, but the British and German issues exist also in part in £100:—coupures.

Following are particulars and numbers of bonds issued:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| British Issue: | | | | | |
| No. | 000,001 to 95,834 | @ | £20: | £1,916,680 | |
| No. | 795,001 to 850,000 | @ | £100: | £5,500,000 | £7,416,700 |
| German Issue: | | | | | |
| No. | 95,835 to 215,834 | @ | Mks. | | |
| No. | 850,001 to 886,000 | @ | Mks. | 409 £2,400,000 | |
| French Issue: | | | | 2,045 3,600,000 | £6,000,000 |
| No. | 215,835 to 586,667 | @ | Frs. | 505 | £7,416,660 |
| Russian Issue: | | | | | |
| No. | 586,668 to 725,556 | @ | Rbls. | 189,40 | £2,777,780 |
| Belgian Issue: | | | | | |
| No. | 725,557 to 795,556 | @ | Frs. | 505 | £1,388,860 |
| Total of original issue ..... | | | | | £25,000,000 |

The China Consortium, under whose auspicies the loan was floated, included Japan; but no bonds were originally issued there as the Japanese market was then not favorable to Chinese securities. Nevertheless capital and interest (when due) can be collected at Yokohama at the rate of Yen 195.92 for every £20 face amount.

Belgium was not a member of the China Consortium. But as Russia could not sell the total issue allotted to her, she turned over part of her share to the Brussels market.

The bonds of £20 (or equivalent) denomination are of a yellowish-brown color, while the £100 bonds are pale blue.

Owing to the fact that a large portion of the Russian issued bonds were confiscated by the Bolshevik authorities at Petersburg, the Chinese Government cancelled that portion of the Russian issue, whose holders could not prove bona fide ownership previous to December 27, 1917. Recognised numbers were then replaced by bonds of pale green color, and on these only interest are to be paid.

Up to May 1923 a total of 58,789 Russian yellow bonds, or provisional certificates, (out of 138,889) had been exchanged for new green bonds. As far as is known no time limit has been set for the exchange of the original yellow bonds, which, as such, are not negotiable. Redemption of Russian issued bonds is confined to the green issue only.

Holders of yellow (Russian) bonds, the origin of which cannot satisfactorily be proved, have organised a Committee, which has asked for the support of the British and American Governments, with a view of taking up the matter with the Chinese Government before the Hague Tribunal.

Another interesting question has arisen with a part of the German issue of the Chinese Reorganisation Loan. According to the terms of the agreement concluded on July 3 1924 between the German and Chinese Governments, that portion of Reorganisation Loan (German issue), which was in the hands of the German Government, was to be returned to China, as part of the war indemnity claimed by this country. It was popularly believed that those bonds (thought to total about £2 millions face value) were to be destroyed, thus reducing China's indebtedness. But at the moment of writing, the fate of those bonds cannot be foreseen. Possibly they may be sold outright or first pledged, with a view of having them gradually absorbed by the market.

According to the agreement of July 3, 1924 all German bonds are now recognised, and interest is to be paid on presentation of coupons.

As the holder of bonds is at liberty to cash his coupons at London, Paris, Berlin or Tokio, at his option, it would appear logical to collect the next coupon due at Berlin in Rentenmark. In doing so there is (at present) a difference of about 10% against Sterling.

Amoy Soon To Have New Electric Light Plant

(China Press Correspondence)

Amoy, Sept. 19.—At the special meeting of ratepayers on Kulangsu held this afternoon, the Committee, consisting of Mr. H. B. Frikke, Manager of the Great Northern Telegraph Company, Mr. F. R. Smith, Manager of Boyd and Company, and Mr. L. J. C. Anderson, Manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, and Chairman of the Municipal Council, reported on the electric light situation now prevailing in the Settlement.

Mr. Frikke read the report of the Committee. Briefly stated, it was to the effect that the Committee had taken legal advice on the question as to whether or not the agreement with John Richards and Company of Shanghai was still binding on the Settlement. This advice was to the effect that, in the opinion of the lawyers consulted, the contract had been broken by John Richards and Company in many of its points and was no longer binding on the Settlement, even though there were three years before the expiration of the original agreement.

As to the provision of electric current for the future, the Committee made two proposals. One was that a plant owned and operated by the Municipality should be installed. The second was that in the opinion of the Committee the Hongkong Electric Company had made the best offer for the supply of electricity and the Committee favored entering into further negotiations with said company with a view to granting them a franchise to erect an entirely new plant in the Settlement and provide electricity.

The question of a municipal plant was laid on the table without debate.

After considerable discussion, the present Council was instructed by the rate-payers to take steps to sever connections with the John Richards Company and, at the same time, to enter into negotiations with the Hongkong Electric Company for the installation of a new plant within the Settlement which said company was to own and operate. This motion was carried without a dissenting vote. Details of these negotiations are to be taken up by the Council at once.

A draft agreement with the Amoy Telephone Company was presented to the ratepayers for their consideration. After discussion and many questions, the draft agreement was approved. It provides for telephone service within the Settlement and between the Settlement and Amoy. The service is now in operation though there is room for much improvement. At the present time the charge for an ordinary telephone is $6 per month and when the new system of semi-automatic telephones are put in, the charge is to be $8. The new system is expected to be in some time about the middle of 1925.

Action Of Japanese Shipping Lines Is Subject Of Protest

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Sept. 27.—A difficulty has arisen in shipping circles here over a protest by foreign lines of the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference against the practice of Japanese lines of issuing Bills of Lading on goods before the goods are on board and a reported threat to break off from the Conference unless this practics is stopped.

Japanese shipowners are meeting shortly to consider the protest. Interested exporters are also studying the question which is regarded as being difficult of solution.

JAPAN CENTERS ATTENTION ON FINANCE PLANS

Cabinet Disputes Necessity For Drastic Cuts In Budget

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Sept. 27.—Attention here is at present centered on the outcome of a series of discussions by which the Cabinet is working out its financial policy and preparing the 1925-26 Budget figures.

Though details are withheld indications are not wanting that the Minister of Finance is facing considerable difficulties in winning over the other Ministers to his views.

Mr. Hamaguchi, the Minister of Finance, who from the time of taking office has regarded the economic situation pessimistically and advocated very stringent curtailment and readjustment, is now demanding the adoption of his plan for retrenchment, totalling 230,000,000 yen, by a readjustment of State expenditure, the total suspension of new enterprises and the non-issue of loans.

Other members of the Cabinet concur in the urgent necessity for economy but those belonging to parties other than the Kenseikai are reported to be absolutely opposed to the wholesale suspension of new enterprises if only for retrenchment and the establishment of a Budget surplus, while the Minister of War and the Minister of the Navy are not willing to cut down their estimates to a level lower than those drawn up by the their own departments, drawing attention to the dangers to defence plans thereby.

The discussions are not expected to conclude for a week or ten days.

N.Y.K. Negotiates With Its Employes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Sept. 27.—A meeting of the Directors of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha this afternoon entrusted the Vice-President, Mr. Kurokawa, and two other executives of the Company with the negotiations for a settlement of the dispute according to a plan submitted by them. Details of the plan are not yet available.

The President, Mr. Ito, did not participate in today's meeting.

Radio Broadcasting Planned In Osaka

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, Sept. 22.—There is every likelihood that the wireless telephone will become very popular in Osaka before long. A private company is now being formed to broadcast news, market quotations, music, lectures, etc. within a radius of 100 miles. Already there have sprung up a number of shops selling receiving sets and other appliances.

However, both the broadcasting station and the amateur receivers will be held under strict Government control. For instance, the receiver is tuned only for one broadcasting station, and one is not permitted to listen to any other.

Is Japan Changing Her Mind On The Subject Of Intervention?

WHEN the present civil war in China started at the beginning of September there was no questioning the attitude of the Japanese press on the subject of intervention in China. One or two of the influential papers hinted that if the Powers, otherwise the United States, Great Britain and France, were planning intervention, "that Japan should watch the situation closely and be ready to stand her share of the responsibility, if not to assume actual leadership," or words to this effect. But generally the press of Japan opposed intervention in China at this time just as strenuously—and it may be hoped—as conscientiously as it did at the time of the Lincheng bandit outrage a year and a half ago.

But now that the war has been in progress for practically a month and Japan has begun to feel the pinch of it in decreased trade, the voice of the Japanese press as well as that of the Japanese Government itself is not so certain as it was on the subject of intervention. The latest issue, September 18, of the Japan Weekly Chronicle presents an excellent summary of the trend of public opinion in Japan on this question. After summarising the situation from various angles, and historically as well, the Chronicle, in part, says:

"For the present it is reported that Baron Shidehara, the Foreign Minister, is watchfully waiting. He is a very cautious diplomatist, who prefers peace with honor to headlong adventure. But his enemies naturally declare that he is waiting to see what Britain and America do so that he can follow their example. But if Britain and America went in opposite directions on this occasion, there might be considerable advantage for the State which held the balance of power. If, however, Japan merely holds off the Powers, as at the time of the Lincheng outrage, and the warring factions suffer very great losses before one side can claim the victory, then there may be no gratitude obtainable from either. Altogether, we may suppose that there is no high-falutin principle that prevents intervention but merely indecision as to how intervention may be turned to the best advantage. Meanwhile, since it is the fashion to praise non-interference, the watchfully waiting statesmen are feeling very virtuous so long as they do nothing, and are saying so."

The above is a summary, and apparently a pretty accurate one, of the attitude of official Japan on the subject of intervention. To put it in simple terms, Japan apparently has no definite convictions on the subject of intervention but is only waiting to see which way the cat is going to jump, the cat in this case being the Western Powers. Turning to the translations in the same issue of the Chronicle from the leading Japanese papers, we find an equally interesting condition of indecision with a considerable leaning over on the side of intervention, or at least preparedness for eventualities.

The Jiji expresses sympathy for the innocent Chinese people who are exposed to all kinds of misery on account of the civil war which had its origin in the feud of military cliques. "The civil war is, however, a domestic affair of China, and consequently, in spite of her deepest sympathy with the Chinese people in their distress, Japan cannot offer any interference. The only course open for her is quietly to watch developments. The one cause of great concern is the safety of foreign life and property. . . . The Lincheng affair of last year considerably lowered China in the estimation of the world, and the present commotion will destroy the last vestige of the foreigners' trust. The fact that the Chinese Government has been utterly unable to hold in check the ambitions of the Chihli militarists and that it has even yielded to the pressure of these militarists to the extent of issuing a mandate for the subjugation of General Lu, is the most clear proof of its impotence. The Powers cannot possibly trust this effete Government to protect the lives and property of their nationals properly. Should Chinese troops, who are notorious for indiscipline, commit outrages against foreigners, a very grave situation would soon arise. The serious attention of the belligerents is invited to this dangerous contingency and they must be warned to act with special care."

The Chugai Shogyo believes that "if the whole country of China becomes embroiled, the Powers cannot possibly remain indifferent. There are already reports of the covert activities of Britain and America (just what they are is not stated—Ed.). When other Powers start activity Japan can ill afford to remain with folded arms. How she will then shape her course is a matter which deserves most serious attention."

The Osaka Asahi, after stating the belief that the absolute neutrality of the Powers is the only thing which will prevent the Balkanisation of China, says that the "situation indeed is a very serious one," and then hints that both Britain and America are waiting anxiously to get a hand into the China situation. "It is to be trusted." says this editor, "that the British Government is encouraging America to take the lead in bringing about the Powers' intervention. Whatever may be the future course of events, however, it seems tolerably certain that, for the present at least, the Powers will pursue a policy of non-interference, but there is a possibility of the future development of the Chinese situation leading to diplomatic warfare involving the Powers."

The Osaka Asahi as well as the Hochi, makes a great deal of the report which was framed out of whole cloth in the Japanese Legation in Peking a few weeks ago of a gigantic American arms smuggling deal, which, in the opinion of the American authorities in North China, was "exploded" for the purpose of hiding something along this line which Japan had in contemplation. This affair offers several of the Japanese papers an opportunity for explaining Japan's position in respect to General Chang Tso-lin and also for some comment on Japan's sympathies with Chekiang Province "on the grounds that General Lu is the under dog and deserves sympathy."

The Kobe Shimbun "regards the commotion in China in the light of a national calamity to Japan, and strongly protests against the policy of absolute non-interference which the Japanese Government is said to have decided to take up. The hostilities have actually been producing marked effects upon Japan's trade with China and her financial situation during the last few days. Kobe traders are naturally destined to suffer a severe blow, as the China trade is their chief concern. The losses suffered by these traders cannot but adversely affect the economics of Kobe citizens generally, and the result will be the accentuation of the present business depression. While not urging the Government to interfere and much less supporting the policy of armed intervention, it, however, strongly advises the Government to see that Japan's vested rights remain secure in the midst of the commotion, that her economic position does not suffer, and the trade routes be safeguarded in order to promote Japan's commercial interests. If the Chinese Government is incapable of the task, Japan must undertake it herself, taking such measures as she thinks necessary for the purpose."

CREATURE OR CREATOR

Are you Creature or Creator?
Says Ernest Crosby:

"Where are the cowards who bow down to environment—

Who think they are made of what they eat?

I am not wax. I am energy.

I have my ideas to work out, and the universe is given me for raw material.

I am a vortex launched in chaos to suck it into shape."

It all depends upon your point of view. You can be either clay or potter, the ball or the pitcher, a thing or a god.

Why do you talk of being the victim of circumstances? You can just as well be the master of circumstances.

I am no puppet of fate. I am secretly in partnership with fate.

Whatever else He may be, God is a spirit. And I am also a spirit.

He is not an image of stone. Neither am I a mere organism of flesh.

He leads the stars, informs the lily, guides the wayward river, moulds the rain-drop, turns on the aurora, and drives the chariot of the sun.

I, who am His kin, am also no clod.

I find a way. I create opportunity. I yoke the winds to my sails and the steam to my cylinders.

I speak to bricks and they fall in by platoons and become my walls.

I gesture to electricity, and it lights my house, draws my roaring express-train, and carries my words in a flash across continents and under oceans.

I can also make tears and laughter. I can darken hearts with pain and light them with joy.

I can discourage the eager boy and soil the clean soul of the girl.

I can sow doubt, discord, discontent. I can be as efficient in evil as the devil.

I have no excuse. If I have got drunk it was I who swallowed the stuff. I must pay the debts of my madness.

If I have failed, seek no farther. It is I who am to blame. For there is to me no failure anywhere in the world that counts, except the failure within my soul.

No man, no woman can defile me. The soul's nest is never fouled save by itself.

And if I have succeeded, give me the credit and not another, nor luck, nor happenings.

For success is a spiritual somewhat. Even when it comes to the inward failure he cannot hold it. It falls from his hands.

I take my reward. I take my punishment. Both are mine.

I am no horse. No one rides me and pulls my bridle. I am the rider.

I can go to hell if I want to. I can go to heaven if I prefer.

I am a free spirit. All around me and within me flows the Universal Spirit. He is Creator. So am I. We work together.

If I have poise and peace and prosperity it is due to us, to our creative partnership.

I am no Creature. I am a co-Creator.

AIRCRAFT IN WARFARE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir.—As an aviator I have read the pathetic appeal of the Diplomatic Corps at Peking. "The solemn representations made by this body to Marshal Chang wherein they state that the outbreak of hostilities in China makes it probable that commanders of the various military forces will make extensive use of aircraft in the conduct of their campaigns." is a streak of intelligence.

Of course they will; hasn't it been known to every airman the world over that ever since 1919 the various factions in China have been purchasing war machines, not commercial, be it noted. This very enlightened body must have put the Nelson touch when they know that Marshal Wu Pei-fu had issued instructions in May last, that every machine under the control of the Peking Government was to be fitted with machine gun mountings and bomb racks, including school machines, an order which was carried out by the end of June, as verified by an ex-airman.

The heads of the Legations state that they "view with the gravest concern the use of this weapon against other objectives than military forces in the field, fortified places or naval units," and yet no protest was made in 1919, when the Vickers contract for 100 Vickers Vimy bombing machines was placed with Peking, or again in 1923, when over 150 modern fighting aeroplanes were imported into China. Knowing all this, they still made no effort to ensure that the military forces, the volunteer forces or the navy, responsible for the defense of the Treaty Ports, were amply protected against this potent weapon of war, even going so far as to scotch any movement of ex-airmen to form volunteer squadrons.

War is war the world over, and this Chihli-Mukden war is possibly a war of extinction to one side or the other, and for the Diplomatic Corps to commence to "howl" now, is, to say the least, rather late in the day.

The fundamental use of the aeroplane in war is not yet understood by anyone except airmen. To state that bombs cannot be dropped with accuracy is as absurd as to state that black is white. All recent tests carried out against land and sea objectives proves beyond a shadow of doubt that airmen can drop bombs within 80 per cent efficiency which is 30 per cent more efficient than any artillery.

One of the primary duties of aircraft in war is the bombing of G. H. Q. and so long as these remain in Peking, so long may they expect air attacks. The civil population may expect to receive 12 hours' notice to evacuate the city before the bombardment commences.

As to the destruction of priceless monuments, have this august body forgotten Reims, etc.?

Enclosing my card and apologising for taking up so much of your valuable space.

Ex "Squadron Commander."
Shanghai, September 27, 1924.

THE BLACK PRESS LAW IN PEKING

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir—The freedom of press should be recognised by any country that professes to spread the Doctrine of Democracy. China is a republic and should, therefore, show that she is a true upholder of that doctrine. But what does the Black Press Law in Peking stand for? Does it mean to show that public opinion is highly respected? Or is it promulgated merely for the sake of hiding the weakness of the Government?

I cannot understand what that document really means when every one in the country is espousing democracy. Such a law would be justifiable, probably, in an unlimited monarchical government. But in a republic can only mean "an act of tyranny." Will the people simply fold their hands and be deaf to such a treatment? The so-called Peking Government under the influence of some powerful militarists will never stop with this law, if all our people submit in silence. There is still another waiting for a chance to destroy the whole fabric of our republic. Then it will be too late for us to do anything.

No one can deny the fact that journalism in this country is still in its budding. But that it has greatly moulded the minds of our people is undoubtedly true. Now, what will be the consequences in the future should this tyrannical act of the Peking Government be left alone? The time is now ripe for all publishers in the land to take concerted action by lodging a protest or taking some other steps if necessary, against such an unbearable and tyrannical act, so that the time may come when every one in the country can express his or her opinion freely. Such a law, if allowed to continue, is indeed the darkest document in the history of journalism!

Thanking you very much for your valuable column,

CHEN. P. CHI.
Shanghai, Sept. 26, 1924.

FOREIGN INTERFERENCE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir:—From the first clash between the soldiers of the two provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang, British and American papers, according to late telegrams, have begun to discuss the necessity of interference from foreign Governments. Now that the President of China has issued a mandate calling all who oppose the Government as in a state of rebellion, this matter of interference assumes another color. Three points may be brought forward against interference at this time.

(1) Of late the Diplomatic Corps is unable to act as one. Should two of the Powers, like Britain and the United States, with best of intentions, proceed to mediate for peace or intrude themselves into the strife, some of the other Governments would make use of such action to the disadvantage of Britain and the U. S. A. and transform in the minds of the Chinese a friendly act into hostile designs.

(2) According to International Law, interference in matters of civil war is never justifiable. Not even on the invitation of one side with the purpose of bringing about peace is intervention of another State ever a right. As to the present civil strife in China, seeing that all foreign Governments have accorded recognition to the present Central Government under president Tsao Kun, they cannot very well do anything in the way of intrusion or mediation lest such action be contrary to the will of the Central Government.

(3) In the present struggle between the leaders, there must some day be a time for settlement. With a finish to the war, there can be real peace. If one or more Goverments proceed to help one side, the other side will be opposed thereto, the strife will not be properly terminated, and peace will be delayed to another day. Better to let this strife, now that it has come, be fought out to a finish and then mediation will be of some service. Even then the mediation must await the invitation of both sides.

Foreign Government and foreign individuals are different. The latter may not help on the warfare of either side, but in their private capacity are not prevented from forming opinions and expressing them, then they bear on the restoration of peace. Moreover, even when anything like intrusion must be avoided, one may be left to cherish a hope in his heart.

P. S.—In your issue of September 18 Mr. Francis Zia opposes a statement which I made in a previous letter when I wrote: "Foreign Governments under International Law cannot recognise or abet rebellion," and he objects to the insinuation that the Chekiang side can be described as a rebellion because "so branded by the General Government," which, in turn, enjoys the recognition of foreign Governments. He takes the peculiar position that what these Governments must refrain from antagonising is not a Central Government of China which they recognise but "the people of a whole nation." He then proceeds to enlarge on this assumption for shattering the very simple statement which I made. I do not care to enter into any lengthy argument, but as Mr. Zia speaks for a respectable part of "the people of a whole nation," I venture to discriminate just a bit.

(1) Never has it been stated or implied that Chekiang or the Chekiang side is in a state of rebellion, but General Lu, Ho and their followers. A common misstatement is that Kiangsu and Chekiang are at war. Both of these Generals and most of their soldiers are from Shantung. If they fight against the Central Government and invade Kiangsu, it is within the bounds of reason that they should be "branded by the Central Government as in rebellion. The Chekiang side or the Chekiang people have not been thus branded.

(2) When a foreign Government accords recognition it cannot be to what they may gauge as the will of "the people of a whole nation," but to a Central Government duly established. Hence foreign Governments, without expressing an opinion as to the right or wrong of the Chinese Government, turned its recognition from the Manchu Emperor to the Republic and President of China, and have continued the same recognition through all the fluctuations of the Presidential office.

(3) Those who resist a Central Government must endure the terminology of being rebels. They bear this stigma, until they succeed in overthrowing the Government which they have resisted. Until such a time, foreign Governments must continue to recognise the Central Government, and cannot recognise or abet rebellion.

(4) If it is a curse to China for the Central Government to resort to arms, is it otherwise when resistance is also through appeal to arms? Though personally I do not favor such an appeal on either side, it looks very much, according to what I have hinted above, as if this new internal strife must be fought to a finish before peace or mediation will be possible. At least the time for mediation has not yet come.

French Women Adopt the Trick of Carrying Fresh Flowers in the Hand—and Call it American

Next time you go through a picture gallery or look through a volume of portraits, notice the disposition of the women's hands You will doubtless come to the conclusion that in most cases portrait painters prefer to portray their subjects holding something in their hands.

The women like Madame Recamier and Mona Lisa, who can hold their hands with perfect grace with fingers quite relaxed, are rare indeed. Hence we find the charming ladies of the portrait galleries holding handkerchiefs, fans, the folds of their skirts, a pet cat or dog, or idly fingering the strands of a string of pearls.

During the early nineteenth century women were frequenty portrayed holding small volumes in their hands. In fact, it was quite the fashion to carry a book, providing it was not too large. Enormous muffs in winter and microscopic fans in summer also gave occupation to fashionable hand in the early nineteenth century, and toward the middle of the century every perfect lady seems to have carried a lace-trimmed handkerchief. A little later came the trick of wearing one glove and carrying the other. Sometimes idle hands are occupied with the flowing ends of a scarf or shawl, and occasionally a reticule simplified the task of the portrait painter. By way of variety women carried flowers. Madame de Stael seems always to have carried a spring of laurel, and David shows a charming portrait of Mme. Seriziat with a bunch of field flowers in her hand, while Queen Luise of Prussia carried a single rose.

This trick of carrying flowers in the hand has been revived this summer in Paris, and interestingly enough the saying goes in France that the fashion came from America. Perhaps some American woman in Paris did start the fad, but surely it seems to us as distinctly an importation. So far, of course only real flowers have been carried in this way—a few sweet peas, a bunch of nastrurtiums or delphinium. There is no special reason why artificial flowers, such as are used for corsage ornaments, should not be carried in the same way. At present most women occupy their fingers with the carrying of a vanity case or a decorative handbag. Even in the evening the decorative vanity case is carried. It would be interesting, passing from the extreme of sophistication to the extreme of simplicity, of flowers were carried instead.

A fad in Paris is to carry natural flowers in the hand.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

BY MARY MARSHALL

WHAT CAN YOU TELL FROM YOUR HAIR?

If It's Dark Brown

If the dark-haired girl marries happily, she is very happy. But she does not always make the best of things. She is ambitious, though not always very persevering. She is often artistic, and loves color and beauty.

HOW DO YOU CROSS THE ROADS?

The idea used to be—did it not?—that you could tell a country bumpkin by the way he crossed the road. But there are many confirmed city dwellers who never learn how to cross a road properly. Really it is more a matter of disposition and training than anything else.

In big cities where there is traffic regulation it is getting more and more to be considered bad form not to wait for a hold-up in street traffic before going across the road. To be sure there are persons who, in spite of strict regulations, pay no attention to signals, darting across city streets whenever the way looks clear. There are people, too, who while waiting for traffic to give way insist on putting one foot down in the gutter, feeling apparently that even this fraction of a moment's time is worth saving.

A great deal of needless anxiety is sometimes felt by persons in busy streets. The look this way and that feel, apprehensive where apprehension is not needed. It is as important, almost, for pedestrians to know traffic regulations as for motorists or drivers. Once knowing them, they then realize just what to look for.

AN ENGLISH SANDWICH

Cut slices of white bread and toast on one side. Cut the pieces in squares about two inches across and spread the toasted side with stiff whipped cream. Now to half of the squares add a spread of strawberry jam and press pieces together cream sides in.

Another English sandwich is made by sreading brown bread with cream cheese seasoned with salt, pepper and enough current jelly to make it a decided pink. Sprinkle with chopped chives and press together.

How Smoothness and Silence are gained

THE smoothness and silence of Studebaker engines are built-in qualities.

To obtain a velvet-like seating for the connecting rod bearings, they are run-in on the crankshaft by the special machine illustrated at the left. A similiar operation is performed in running-in the crankshaft bearings. All of this before the engine is assembled.

After the engine becomes a complete unit it is subjected to a long dynamometer test. Here it runs under its own power, driving against an electric motor. Stethoscopes, gauges and other delicate instruments enable expert inspectors to make tuning adjustments.

The care demanded in the building of Studebaker engines characterizes every part of the car. So, too, does such a policy reflect the ideals for which the Studebaker name has stood for 72 years.

YUE CHONG COAL COMPANY
25-26 North Soochow Road, Shanghai.
Telephones: North 651 and North 1717

We have been carrying on our business for more than thirty years and have been enjoying the confidence and commendation of the public. We are selling the coals of the best Chinese coal mines, such as, Dah Doong Coal, Ching Hsing Coal, Chung Hsing Coal, Tung Woo Coal, Houchi Coal, Liu Ho Kow Coal as well as Saghaline Coal. The Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway, Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes, and Italian, American, French and Chinese Warships, Cotton Mills and other industrial factories have been purchasing great quantities of coal from us, and our annual sale amounts to over 200,000 tons.

Our coal is best selected and at moderate prices, and consumers may rely on us in obtaining the right kind of coal as named on their order. We are well versed in the qualities of the various coals suitable for different boilers.

Orders from foreign warships are especially welcome. It is understood that warships used to purchase coal from the merchants who are not belonging to the coal trade and who obtain their coal after passing many hands. These merchants do not understand what is the right coal for warships, who are liable to be cheated by these merchants. Such practices bring serious damage to the names of our Chinese coal mines.

We are doing business on thoroughly honest basis in a measure to preserve the name of our Chinese coals as well as to push our business. We guarantee the satisfaction of foreign steamships who may place orders with us. Sufficient stock of the coals is always available to meet our customers' demands, either for temporary order or for yearly contract. Please write or telephone us and our representative will call on you.

Hsia Hung Chong, Proprietor

Councillor to the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce,
Chairman of the Shanghai Coal Merchants' Guild,
Chairman of the Shanghai Coal Merchants Association

Universal Peace Is Aim, Says Herriot

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Paris, Sept. 27.—M. Herriot, in an interview given to a correspondent of the Vorwaerts regarding Franco-German relations, affirmed that he wished to collaborate in the organisation of the peace of the world. This action in favor of universal peace was the directing idea of his policy, but on condition that the security of France was not menaced. The work of pacification demanded that France and Germany should work in common, but a Franco-German rapprochement would not be possible until the French democracy found that Republican Germany in general had decided to break with the past.

A delegation from Berlin charged with the work of conducting the Franco-German negotiations is leaving for Paris on Monday.
